

Washington, DC – Congressman Bruce Braley (D-Iowa) announced today $1,700 in grant money for the Maquoketa Library to purchase four new computers. The project is funding through the US Department of Agriculture's Rural Development Program.

"Public libraries are at the center of many communities in Iowa," Braley said. "This grant will directly impact families in Maquoketa and help improve an already outstanding facility. Adults and children in the community can rely on the library to provide them with greater access to information and educational opportunities."
